About our guest speakers:

Dr. Gavin Stuart, Dean, Faculty of Medicine

Dr. Gavin Stuart was appointed as the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, University of British Columbia, in September 2003.

A native of Manitoba, he attended The University of Western Ontario for his undergraduate medical and postgraduate training in obstetrics and gynecology. This was followed by a Fellowship in Gynecological Oncology at Wayne State University in Detroit.

Dr. Stuart was Director of the Department of Gynecology at the Tom Baker Cancer Centre in Calgary for 10 years. He went on to become Professor and Head of the Department of Oncology at the University of Calgary and Director of the Tom Baker Cancer Centre for 12 years. He was also appointed as Vice-President of the Alberta Cancer Board.

His clinical research interests and publications have been in the area of gynecologic cancer, including population-based screening programs and the conduct of clinical trials as therapeutic interventions in gynecologic cancer.

He is currently the Chair for the Gynecology Site Committee of the National Cancer Institute of Canada (NCIC) Clinical Trials Group. Having been active for many years in the design and implementation of a number of major international intergroup trials in ovarian cancer he is the Chair-elect of the Gynecologic Cancer Intergroup (an international collaboration for clinical trials).

Dr. Stuart has been active in leadership roles in many national and US committees on medical education, health human resource planning and evidence-based guideline development. In his current role, he continues to function as a Gynecological Oncologist and a member of the team at the Vancouver Hospital and BC Cancer Agency, Vancouver.

Dr. Timothy Rowe, Head, Division of Reproductive Endocrinology & Infertility

Dr Rowe received his undergraduate medical training at the University of Adelaide in South Australia, and graduated in 1971. After residency training in various parts of Australia and at Dalhousie University, he completed his training with a research fellowship in reproductive medicine at the University of Sydney in Australia.

He is currently Head of the Division of Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility at the University of British Columbia.

He is a member of the editorial board of four journals and of the International Menopause Digest, is Special Projects Editor for the Journal of Obstetrics and Gynaecology Canada, and edited the reports from the Canadian Consensus Conferences on Contraception, Endometriosis, and on Menopause and Osteoporosis. He co-authored the textbook Gynecology: A Practical Approach. He is a core member of Health Canada's Scientific Advisory Committee on Human Reproductive Therapies and a member of the SOGC's Ethics Committee.
